Christmas Party Planning Tips

Choosing the right Christmas party venue.

The office Christmas party is a great opportunity to get to know your work colleagues away from the office, but you need to make sure that the venue is easy to get to, has adequate parking and is a place where everybody will be comfortable in. The RICC is a great venue and has four different function rooms suitable for Christmas Parties. It is located just over 100 metres from Torquay Seafront and has a large car park. Should you book a Christmas party with us, your party will also have the option to leave their car overnight, free of charge, and collect it the following morning.

Choosing the right Christmas party menu

Food plays a big part in people's enjoyment of the evening overall. Therefore one of the most important tips to consider is the menu that is on offer. The RICC truly gets into the festive spirit with festive dishes such as our roast Torbay Turkey served with sage & onion seasoning, chipolata sausage and cranberry sauce as well as modern alternatives including oven baked fillet of cod with pesto set on spring onion mash. In addition we can cater for all special diets, such as gluten free and nut allergies.

Choosing the right Christmas party atmosphere

When choosing your venue, consider how the room will look once it has been fully decorated. The room, including layout, lighting and decorations, will play a pivotal role in creating a festive atmosphere where your party can let their hair down and celebrate the occasion. The Party Nights we have on offer at the RICC exude atmosphere from our enhanced lighting and quality decorations to the fantastic DJ so you can dance the night away.

Keeping your guests entertained

Ensure that there is appropriate entertainment to keep your guests entertained throughout the evening. Our Christmas Party Nights include a disco as part of the set price and from Saturday 18th December RICC guests will once again have the opportunity to use the indoor ice rink as it returns for its second year. Alternatively, should you decide to have a private party here at the RICC, your event will be assigned a dedicated event co-ordinator who can assist you in booking a variety of entertainment from table magicians to live bands.
